Into the White Mountain Range of Peru

JULY 10 - 17, 2016

After one night in Lima, this trip will take you north of Peru's capital, to one of the country's hidden treasures. You'll spend a full week trekking in the White Mountain Range — the Cordillera Blanca — at elevations between 3,100 and 4,650 meters (10,1716 and 15,256 feet). During these challenging treks, you'll come face-to-face with breathtaking landscapes from snowcapped peaks to cloud forests and learn about ancient civilizations that inhabited these harsh environments 2,000 years before the Incas. Each day of this trip will end in comfort and coziness and you can rest your tired feet in boutique hotels, Cuesta Serena and Llanganuco Mountain Lodges. NOTE: All participants need to be in good physical condition and have experience in trekking.
